Dear Friends, Donors and Sponsors:

Tonight is the fifth and final program in the 10th anniversary season of The New Albany Lecture Series.

What a season it has been! It began with the legendary Deepak Chopra, followed by 2021 Nobel Prize winner Maria Ressa, Fox News Anchor Bret Baier and then a lively discussion with Dr. Art Laffer and Robert Reich. Tonight we welcome the former Secretary of Homeland Security and White House advisor, Gen. John F. Kelly and the 16th Supreme Allied Commander of NATO, Adm. James Stavridis. Their discussion, moderated by CNN's Chief National Security correspondent, Jim Sciutto, promises to be informative and insightful.

Earlier today a group of veterans joined Gen. Kelly and Adm. Stavridis for a luncheon and tour at the National Veterans Memorial and Museum. And just prior to tonight's program, the Foundation hosted a reception with our distinguished guests and nearly 100 veterans, currently serving members of the military and first responders.

We hope you have had the opportunity to attend multiple lectures and that you find them all informative and compelling. The Foundation board established the series to advance lifelong learning within the New Albany community and beyond. To further advance our mission, we offer students from across central Ohio the opportunity to participate in discussions with the speakers as well. To date, more than 32,000 area students have been enriched by these extraordinary opportunities.

I hope you will peruse the program which recognizes all of the sponsors who make these enriching programs possible. The program also announces our exciting lineup of speakers for the 2023-2024 season which launches in October. We appreciate all of you who support the lecture series and we look forward to seeing you again in October.

With appreciation,

Craig Mohre, President

GENERAL JOHN F. KELLY

U.S. Marine Corps (RET)

GENERAL JOHN F. KELLY was born and raised in Boston, Massachusetts. He enlisted in the Marine Corps in 1970, and was discharged as a sergeant in 1972, after serving in an infantry company with the 2nd Marine Division, Camp Lejeune, North Carolina. Following graduation from the University of Massachusetts in 1976, he was commissioned an Officer of Marines.

As an officer, General Kelly served in a number of command, staff and school assignments to include sea duty, instructor duty at The Basic School, the Infantry Officer Course, command of the 1st Light Armored Reconnaissance Battalion, attendance at the National War College, and duty on Capitol Hill as the Commandant's liaison to the U.S. Congress. He also served as the Special Assistant to the Supreme Allied Commander, Europe, in Mons, Belgium.

He returned to the United States in 2001, and was assigned duty as the Assistant Chief of Staff G-3 with the 2nd Marine Division. In 2002, selected to the rank of Brigadier General, he again served with the 1st Marine Division, this time as the Assistant Division Commander. Much of the next two years was spent deployed fighting in Iraq. He then returned to Headquarters Marine Corps as the Legislative Assistant to the Commandant from 2004 to 2007. Promoted to Major General, he returned to Camp Pendleton as the Commanding General,

I Marine Expeditionary Force (Forward). The command deployed to Iraq in early 2008 for a year-long mission as Multinational Force-West in Al Anbar and western Ninewa provinces. After rotating home and being confirmed as a Lieutenant General he commanded Marine Forces Reserve and Marine Forces North from October 2009 to March 2011. He then served as the Senior Military Assistant to two Secretaries of Defense, Messrs. Gates and Panetta, from March 2011 to October 2012 before being nominated for a fourth star and command of the United States Southern Command (SOUTHCOM), a position he held until January 2016.

During his 39 months in command of SOUTHCOM he worked closely with the remarkable men and women of U.S. law enforcement, particularly the FBI and DEA. He also worked intimately with Secretary of Homeland Security Jeh Johnson and the equally remarkable men and women of the Department of Homeland Security, particularly in dealing with the flow of drugs, people and other threats against the U.S. homeland that flow along the trans-national criminal networks into the U.S. from the south. This relationship was a model of interagency cooperation and effectiveness.

After less than a year in retirement General Kelly was offered the opportunity to serve the nation and its people again, now as the Secretary of Homeland Security. After he and his family served a lifetime in service to the nation—and knowing no other life—the opportunity to serve again was welcomed. The U.S. Senate gave him and his family the great honor of confirming him on January 20, 2017 and he was immediately sworn in as the fifth Secretary of Homeland Security. After six months, he was selected to serve as White House Chief of Staff, a position he held until January 2019.

JIM SCIUTTO

CNN's chief national security correspondent and co-anchor of CNN News Central

JIM SCIUTTO is CNN's chief national security correspondent and co-anchor of CNN News Central airing Monday through Friday from 9 to 11 a.m. ET alongside Poppy Harlow.

He reports and provides analysis across the network's programs and platforms on all aspects of U.S. national security including foreign policy, the military, intelligence community, and the ongoing Russia investigation. Sciutto also serves as a fill-in anchor for several of the network's programs.

Sciutto has reported from throughout Asia, Europe, the Middle East and the Arctic with the U.S. military and senior U.S. leaders and played a key role in CNN's overseas coverage of the Charlie Hebdo and Paris terrorist attacks in France and the violent elections in the Ukraine.

Sciutto is the author of a book on the driving forces behind Islamic radicalization, Against Us: The New Face of America's Enemies in the Muslim World, and a second book on Russian and Chinese efforts to undermine the U.S., entitled The Shadow War, published in 2019 by Harper Collins.

Sciutto's one-hour CNN special, Targeting Terror: Inside the Intelligence War, was recognized with a 2016 Headliner Award for documentaries and his reporting from inside Iran during the 2009 election protests earned him an Edward R. Murrow award. He was also awarded the George Polk Award and a citation for Excellence from the Overseas Press Club for his undercover reporting from Myanmar, where he bucked government restrictions to tell the stories of that country's repressive regime. Additionally, his reporting for the series "Iraq: Where Things Stand" was recognized with an Emmy Award for two consecutive years.

Prior to joining CNN, Sciutto served as ABC News' senior foreign correspondent, based primarily in London and later in Washington. In his role, he reported from more than 50 countries across the globe including dozens of assignments from inside Iraq, Afghanistan and Iran.

Prior to ABC News, he served as the Hong Kong-based correspondent for Asia Business News. A graduate from Yale University with a bachelor's degree in Chinese history, Sciutto began his career as the moderator and producer of a weekly public affairs talk show on PBS.

Sciutto has also served as chief of staff and senior advisor to the U.S. Ambassador to China, Gary Locke.

Along with CNN colleagues Jake Tapper, Carl Bernstein and Evan Perez, Sciutto was awarded the White House Correspondence Association's Merriman Smith Award in the broadcast category for their January 2017 report on how the intelligence community believed Russia had compromising information on then President-elect Trump.

Jim is married to Gloria Riviera-Sciutto, Washington Correspondent for ABC News.

That commitment to our nation's security continues today. We are proud to guard our nation against cybersecurity threats; protect the health of our military; and keep soldiers safe in harsh environments around the world.

Our history of working with high-hazard materials lets us test protective clothing and gear against chemical and biological threats. And our specialized research facilities are key to testing explosives and energetics. Our deep expertise in materials science is advancing hypersonics technology.

We are proud to be a trusted partner to the Department of Defense, the Department of Homeland Security, the Department of Energy and many other federal agencies in efforts to strengthen national security and keep our nation safe. In many cases we are embedded with our national security partners sharing offices, laboratories and sitting beside each other on military bases.

In our increasingly volatile world, these partnerships and our ability to deliver the highest quality science and technology solutions could not be more important. # THE STUDENT LECTURE SERIES

More than 32,000 students from New Albany and 50 other central Ohio schools have interacted with Foundation speakers as part of The New Albany Lecture Series.

This season the Foundation hosted students at three lectures featuring the 2021 Nobel Prize winner, Maria Ressa, Dr. Deepak Chopra and two expert economists: Dr. Arthur Laffer and Robert Reich. The lectures were also live streamed allowing hundreds of additional central Ohio students to participate virtually from their schools.

In response to its donors' desire to support The Student Lecture Series, The New Albany Community Foundation established The Lifelong Learning Circle. Visit newalbanyfoundation.org to become a member of The Lifelong Learning Circle and help the Foundation underwrite the cost of the series so that central Ohio students can benefit from these programs.

How you can support THE NEW ALBANY LECTURE SERIES

{ 10th Anniversary Season ~ 2022-2023 }

A priority for the Foundation moving forward is to endow The New Albany Lecture Series. This will enable the Foundation to continue to present high-quality speakers while keeping lectures accessible to the entire community, including students, senior citizens and veterans. Additionally, endowing The New Albany Lecture Series would allow the Foundation to continue to invest in other transformative projects and initiatives in the community. Already, several families have established endowment funds to support the series.

If you are interested in establishing a fund or simply making a contribution to The New Albany Lecture Series Endowment Fund, please contact Craig Mohre at 614-939-8150 or craigmohre@newalbanyfoundation.org to support The New Albany Community Foundation's programming.
