A limited number of listening devices for the hearing impaired are available for tonight's New Albany Lecture Series program. Devices can be used with headphones or the option of a neck loop to be used with hearing aids. Devices can be retrieved from the box office in exchange for a driver's license or similar form of ID and must be returned to the box office at the end of the program. Please see an usher or visit the box office if you have any questions.

Each day, we strive to move this extraordinary community forward. By stimulating meaningful conversation. Encouraging lifelong learning. And playing an instrumental role in convening the stakeholders who built the Jeanne B. McCoy Community Center for the Arts. Through its arts endowment funds, the Foundation awards a significant grant to the McCoy Center to sustain quality cultural and educational programming.

Dear Friends, Donors and Sponsors:

Welcome to the final lecture as part of the 2024-2025 season!

Tonight, our focus turns to environmental sustainability as we welcome Chris Walker, Director of Amazon Web Services Sustainability Organization. Mr. Walker will be interviewed by Sara Fischer, Senior Reporter at Axios.

Sustainability is one of the Foundation's adopted areas of impact, along with lifelong learning, health and wellness and the arts.

Since New Albany began to develop, leaders at The New Albany Company, City of New Albany and New Albany-Plain Local Schools have made sustainability a priority. They worked together to establish the 60-acre nature preserve and wetlands adjacent to the school campus, which serves as an environmental science lab for the students. Not long after, New Albany's environmental science program emerged as one of the most highly regarded of its kind in the country and without a doubt inspired many students to not only appreciate the natural environment, but in some cases, it inspired students to explore careers in the sustainability field.

Earlier today, Mr. Walker met with area high school students through the Foundation student lecture series. We are proud that to date, more than 36,000 area students from over 50 area high schools have been enriched by these extraordinary opportunities.

We are grateful to Mr. Walker and our friends at AWS for engaging with the community to advance environmental sustainability. Many of the companies located in the New Albany Business Park support sustainability efforts in our community and we are grateful to all of them.

I encourage you to peruse the program, which recognizes all the sponsors who make these unique opportunities possible. We appreciate all of you who support the lecture series!

In the near future we will announce the programs and speakers for our 13th season and we look forward to seeing you again when we launch the new season in October!

With appreciation,

Craig Mohre, President The New Albany Community Foundation

Amazon is proud to partner with the New Albany Community Foundation and support the New Albany Lecture Series.

How you can support

NEWALBANY LECTURE

A priority for the Foundation moving forward is to endow The New Albany Lecture Series. This will enable the Foundation to continue to present high-quality speakers while keeping lectures accessible to the entire community, including students, senior citizens and veterans. Additionally, endowing The New Albany Lecture Series would allow the Foundation to continue to invest in other transformative projects and initiatives in the community. Already, several families have established endowment funds to support the series.

If you are interested in establishing a fund or simply making a contribution to The New Albany Lecture Series Endowment Fund, please contact Craig Mohre at 614-939-8150 or craigmohre@newalbanyfoundation.org to support The New Albany Community Foundation's programming.

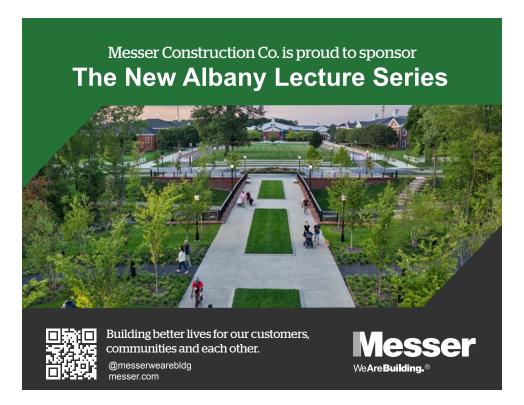

We're all about your community. Because it's ours, too.

It can be easy to forget to stop and appreciate this place: our community. At Huntington, we see it as our responsibility to not just appreciate Central Ohio, but to always be looking for ways to make it better. That's why we're making a number of investments right here. Check them out at huntington.com/Community. Because when our communities thrive, we all live better.

In response to its donors' desire to support The Student Lecture Series,
The New Albany Community Foundation established The Lifelong Learning Circle.
Visit newalbanyfoundation.org to become a member of The Lifelong Learning Circle and help the Foundation underwrite the cost of the series so that central Ohio students can benefit from these programs.

This season the Foundation hosted students at four lectures featuring topics of mental health, artificial intelligence, civil discourse and debate and environmental sustainability. Guest speakers were interviewed by New Albany High School students and lectures were live streamed allowing hundreds of additional central Ohio students to participate virtually from their schools.

Thank you to the following schools and organizations who participated in the student lectures this season:

Beechcroft High School
Briggs High School
Columbus Academy
Columbus Alternative High School
Columbus School For Girls

Development Mentors and Mentees of
The Columbus Urban League

MORE THAN 36,000 STUDENTS FROM NEW ALBANY AND OVER 50 CENTRAL OHIO SCHOOLS HAVE INTERACTED WITH INFLUENTIAL THOUGHT LEADERS AS PART OF THE NEW ALBANY LECTURE SERIES.

As a young actor myself, it's comforting to know that Ms. Linney experienced some of the same things as me and it inspires me to persevere just as she did.

I liked how the speakers emphasized that a discussion requires active listening. It's important that we hear and consider all viewpoints as students.
